

Richmond Reentry Pilot

Through an offender reentry initiative of the National Governor's Association, Virginia was selected to participate in the initiative and created a Prisoner Reentry Policy Academy. The goal of the Academy is to successfully transition state prisoners back into society through comprehensive, integrated services. In order to meet this goal, the Virginia Prisoner Reentry Policy Academy has selected five reentry pilot sites throughout the state, including the City of Richmond. The Richmond pilot is jointly coordinated by OAR and the Richmond City Department of Social Services.
